Public health experts recommend using hand sanitizer and disinfecting frequently in common and high-traffic areas. Because these messages are critical, you'll want to increase awareness by posting them throughout your facility. Brady signs are heavy-duty, waterproof and can withstand a variety of environments where staying clean is a priority.

Brady recommended solutions:

- A variety of COVID-19 signs that can be posted in areas throughout your building (Catalog #170162)
- Sanitation records to keep track of how often high-touch areas are cleaned / disinfected (Catalog #170343)

If you need to check for symptomatic individuals before they enter your facility, you'll need to set up safe and efficient screening stations. Federal guidelines mention the importance of monitoring conditions to mitigate COVID-19 outbreaks. With these safety solutions, you can easily set up and take down a station for shifts, temporary outdoor areas and even restaurants and theaters.

Brady recommended solutions:

- Floor stands can provide temporary messaging (Catalog #170342)
- Traffic cones create awareness of off-limit areas until screening is complete (Catalog #103681)
